Description

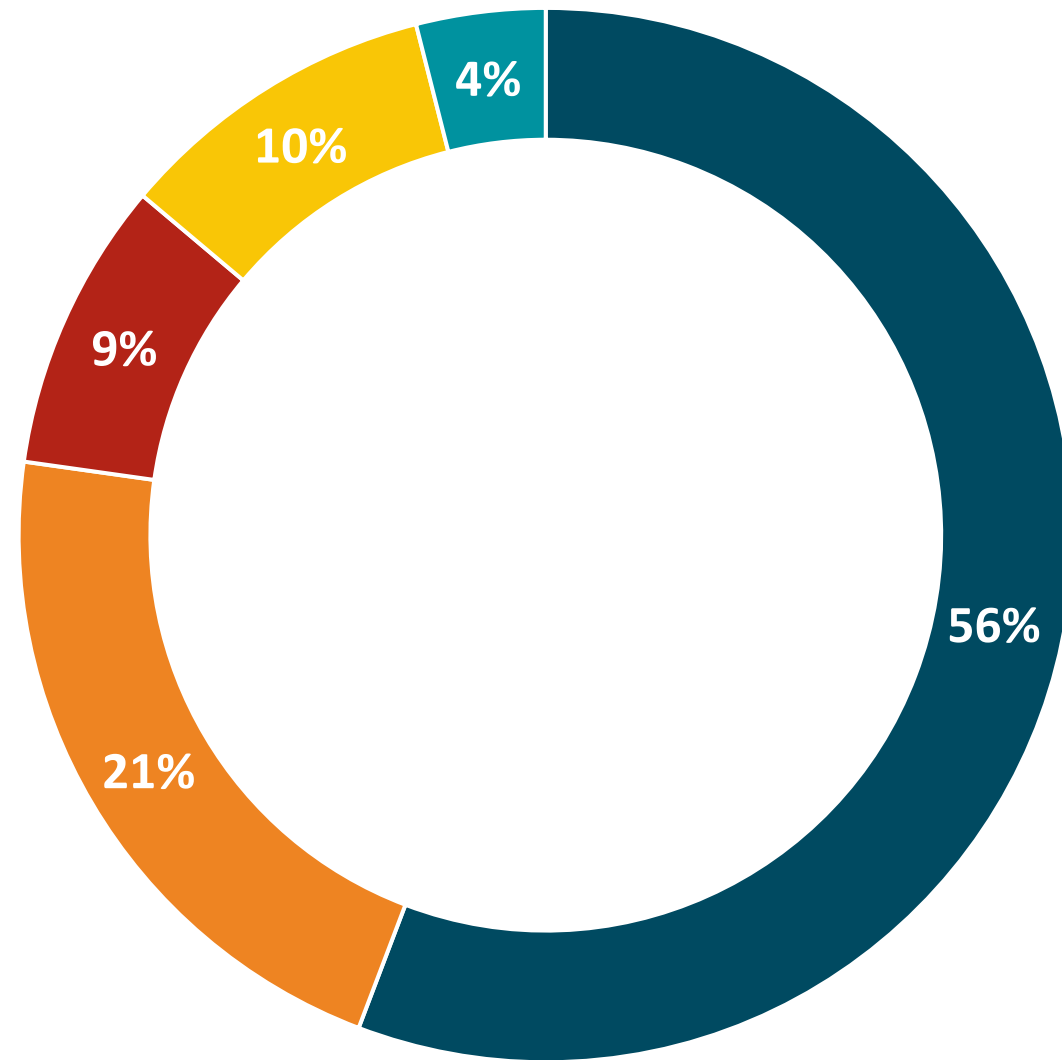

The Alliance for Academic Internal Medicine (AAIM) is proud to present the 2026 APDIM Fall Meeting, renowned for its comprehensive programming tailored to meet the diverse needs of the entire internal medicine residency program leadership team.

This valuable professional development opportunity offers a dynamic forum to connect with peers from institutions nationwide. Participants exchange insights, share best practices, and collaborate with others who are addressing similar operational, educational, and leadership challenges.

Partnership Opportunities

As a complement to formal programming, a limited number of opportunities are available to companies wishing to attend and engage this audience of residency program leaders.
